Another of yesterday's arrivals was that of Mr. J. N. Brenaman, of Shenandoah county, who has been one of Clerk Bigger's assistants for several terms. It is understood that he will be reappointed. DR. SWEENEY'S SERMONS.

A Stirring Appeal at the Seventh Street In spite of the inclement weather last night a large number of persons attended the services at the Seventh-Street Christian church and listened to a most instructive and impressive sermon by Rev. Z. T. Sweeney upon the subject, "is Obedience to the Moral Law Sufficient?" His text was "Whoseever committeth ain, transgresseth also the law and sin is sin, transgresseth also the law and sin is transgression of the law." He defined transgression as meaning crossing the way, doing what should not be done and not doing what should be done and sin as unrighteousness. He classified laws the formal and positive laws, explaining the formal and positive laws, explaining the former as being laws that determined the eternal fitness of things and the latter as laws that are without any moral principles and in which we can see no purpose. He asserted that a man could obey all the moral laws in the Bible and not be a Christian, illustrating this by contrasting the lives of Charles Spurgeon, the great Christian teacher, and Robert J. Ingersoll, the moralist and

Mr. Sweeney endeavored to show the importance of observing both classes of law in the Christian life. The necessity for respecting the positive laws of God was shown by reference to Adam and Eve and the forbidden fruit, Abraham in offering up Isaac, Moses in smiting the rock for water, and Jesus curing the the rock for water, and Jesus curing the blind man with a little spittle, which were tests of man's loyalty to God. Some dissenters claim that the ten com-mandments were laws of the Egyptians adopted by Moses and are not of God, but the fallacy of this is demonstrated in that the laws of the Egyptians and in that the laws of the Egyptians and those of Moses were diametrically opposed to each other. The laws of Moses and the Old Testament, however, as a system, were abolished in Christ. There is no intention of repudiating them, the laws were reincorporated in the teachings of God's Divine Son. After explaining several difficult passages in the New Testament, he made a very earnest appeal for the acceptance of Jesus as our Lord and Saviour.

Cause for Rejoicing.
WILKESBARRE, PA., Nov. 25.—A silk hat, crushed and battered by rejoicing Democrats the night of Nov. 7, 1894, when Grover Cleveland was first elected president, has just proved the means of giving to a despairing widow a snug fortune and proving that she was married tenally.

dent, has despairing widow a snug fortune and proving that she was married legally.

The hat is the property of Alderman Donahue, of this city. Donahue was one of the most enthusiastic of Cleveland's supporters during his first presidential campaign and he bet heavily and worked hard for him. Election day, in 1884, Donahue won a slik hat on the big Cleveland vote polled in his ward, and, donning the hat, he waited for the returns from other places. Cleveland majorities came piling in, the alderman celebrating each bulletin in the approved manner.

Amidst the glad news Donahue was summoned hastily to the Bristol Hotel to marry George Baunds and Mary Rogers. Eager to get back to the bulletin boards, he galloped through the ceremony, kissed the bride, and, having no paper, hastily made a pote of the marriage in the white slik lining of his new hat, promising to send a marriage certificate to the happy couple the next day.

Among the incidents of that night of which the 'squire has no clear recollection must have been a heated argument. When he arrived home in the morning the hat looked very much as if it had been through a football game, and Mrs. Donahue stowed it away in the depths of a dark closet. Donahue a year ago received a letter from Mrs. George Baunds, of Montana, stating that her husband had been killed on the railroad, where he was employed as a brakeman, and that before she could get the amount of the insurance carried by her husband in a lodge she must produce her marriage certificate. She asked Donahue to forward the long-delayed paper.

The alderman examined his books and found no record of any such marringe and replied to that effect. Then Mrs. Baunds came on here and recalled the circumstances of the case, but Donahue could remember nothing except that Cleveland was elected. The widow returned to Montana in despair.

Donahue received a letter from the grateful Mrs. Baunds, saying that the court had accepted the evidence of that hat and had decided in her favor.

A Bratal Murder.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 26.—The noon-day assassination of a boy is reported from Horry county, Saturday Cnarles Stevens took his son George from their home at Red Bluff to the beach to fish. Monday Stevens sent his son home with the wagon. He remained at the fishery. At 11 A. M. the boy was seen at Wampee driving with John Butler, a negro, walking behind with a gun. At 1 P. M. Butler returned to Wampee with the team and offered it for sale, saying he had bought it from Stevens, but found the animal too slow.

George was not missed for two days, his mother thinking him at the beach and his father supposing him at home. The whole country soon turned out and scoured the woods. The body of the boy was found buried under leaves and trash with a load of shot in the back of the head. Search is being made for Butler, and he will certainly be killed if caught.

PRESIDENT ABRAHAMOVICS SUS-PENDS THIRTEEN DEPUTIES

Who Disturb the Sessions of the Lower House of the Reichsrath -- His Calmness Under Fire of Abuse.

VIENNA, Nov. 26.—The disorder in the lower House of the Reichsrath was so accentuated to-day that a strong detachment of police had to be called in to pre-ment of police had to be called in to preserve order.

When the President of the House, Dr. Abrahamovics, entered he was greeted with vociferious shouts of "Get out." The Leftists rose in a body, many of the deputies shricked wildly, and an indescribable tumult followed.

Dunga the tumult, a Socialist, Herr Berner, made a rush for the President and a lively fist fight followed between Berner and the House attendants who attempted to protect the chair. Thereupon another Socialist Democrat, Herr Resel, jumped upon the ministerial bench and hurrying to the Presidential chair, seized the papers which were lying on the President's desk and tore them to pieces, while other Socialist Democrats hastened to Herr Berner's assistance, occupied the tribune and demanded satisfaction from the attendants humiliation of Herr Berner. The President was compelled to liee.

of Herr Berner. The President was compelled to flee.

FREE FIGHT.

Subsequently the Socialist Democratis and attendants indulged in a free fight, and Herr Berner was elected from the House. In the meantime a detachment of seventy police officers arrived and the officer in command called upon the Socialist Democrats to withdraw from the Presidential platform. They refused to Presidential platform. They refused to withdraw and resisted the attempts of the police to eject them. They were eventually removed forcibly and singly. The police then made a cordon around

The police then made a cordon around the tribune.

These scenes were enacted prior to the formal opening of the House. While the deputies were fighting and howling on the floor of the House, a tumuit arose in the second gallery, which the attendants promptly cleared.

The authorities then caused all the lobbies of the House to be filled with police, the gates were closed and the building was guarded by a strong police force.

The session of the House in the meanwhile was suspended.

When the lower house of the Reichsrath teassembled this afternoon after the forced adjournment of the morning, the reappearance of President Abrahamovics was greeted with a storm of abuse—the reappearance of President Abrahamovics was greeted with a storm of abuse—the slamming of desa lids, whistling, etc. He repertedly tried to address the Leftists, but his voice was inaudible amid the up-roar, the only articulate sounds distin-guishable being cries from the Leftists of "Out with the police".

SUSPENDED DR. WOLFF. Dr. Wolff, the German Nationalist lead-er, as yesterday, contributed prominently to the disturbance. Upon this occasion he kept blowing a shrill whistle. Herr Resel, the Socialist Democrat Deputy. Resel, the Socialist Democrat Deputy, who took such a prominent part in the disturbances this morning, also indulged this afternoon in a shrill whistling. In the midst of this uproar President Abrahamovies twice called Dr. Wolff to order. As this had no effect upon the turbulent German Nationalist, the President sus-

As soon as the Leftists realized what had occurred they burst out into a state of unbridled fury, shricking insults at Dr. Abrahamovics. Herr Daszynski, also a Socialist Democrat, yelled: "You ought to be in jail."

Other infuriated deputies shouted all kinds of invectives, but the individual contributions to the uproor were indis-tinguishable amid the general howling from all parts of the house.

In spite of this disgraceful scene and the insults hurled at him, President Abrahamovics apparently remained unmoved, but when he recognized that it was use-less to make any further attempts to transact business, he quietly spoke a few words to a police officer near him and suspended the sitting amid deafening and words to a police officer by the president soon became apparent, for an officer, and four policemen removed Dr. Wolff from the house by force, in spite of considerable opposition on the part of his clique.

When the president again re-entered the house he was once more greeted with a shower of approbrious epithets, including cries of "Criminal," "Traitor," "Get out." After standing this storm for a period, the President again left the house, but only for a moment, and on his return he instructed the police to withdraw, declaring amid a tremendous uproar:

The president called upon Count Stierkgh to speak, but the tumult continued, and the president suspended Herr Dazynski for three sittings. He was the Socialist Deputy, who had some time previously shouted that the president should he in fail. When Herr Dazynski refused to leave the house the president summoned the police, and the turbulent deputy was ejected from the building.

The scenes throughout the sitting afterward were as disorderly as those of the earlier parts of the 4ay, and the house finally adjourned until to-morrow.

RiOTING IN VIENNA.

After 9 o'clock this evening the aspect of the streets became more threatening. It is estimated that a crown of ten thousand, including a very large number of students, assembled and threatened the government with revolution and Count Badeni, the Premier, with the guillotine.

An attempt was made to attack Count Badeni's house.

The police repeatedly charged the crowd but refrained from using arms. The students resisted with sticks. One police inspector was severally injured by a kick from a horse, another was thrown from his horse and so badly hurt that it was necessary to remove him to the hospital. A few students and some ditzens received slight injuries. Not until nearly 11 o'clock was quiet restored.

To-day's edition of most of the evening newspapers have been confiscated and the police have freely arrested persons offering papers for sale in the streets.

A serious riot is reported at Gratz, the capital city of Styria. It appears that the students and a large body of workmen attacked three newspaper offices, doing some damage. The police with the assistance of the troops, have restored order, and twenty arrests have been made of the ringleaders.

The cool attitude maintained by Herr Abrahamovics, the President of the Chamber, greatly enrages his opponents.

Mr. Samuel Clemens, 'Mark Twain,' was among those expelled from the gallery of the Underheast to-day.

Large crowds gathered this evening about the University buildings and the Parliament house, owing to an announcement that the students intended to make a demonstration. This, however, was prevented by the police, who promptly dispersed the gatherings, More than forty arrests were made. There was no violent resistance. Thus far, order has been pres resistance. Thus far, order has been preserved.

'To-day's proceedings, however, exhausted Herr. Abrahamovics, both physically and mentally; and he was obliged to abandon the struggle when it was at its height. Dr. Kramarz, the vice-president, a young Czech, considerably the junior of Herr. Abrahamovics, followed him, but he succeeded no better in his attempts to quiet the disorder. The opposition leaders held another meeting this evening, and decided, it is said, to impact the ministry. Workmen took but little part in the street demonstrations. They intend to organize demonstrations on their own account, which will probably be more serious in their result.
